

Foundation Signs Book-Distribution Deal

The Thomas Jefferson Foundation, Inc., and the University of North Carolina Press have signed an agreement through which the Chapel Hill, N.C.-based publisher has become the exclusive trade distributor for all books published by the Foundation.

The Thomas Jefferson Foundation produces scholarly studies and general-audience books related to the life and times of Jefferson. The Foundation issued four titles in the past year: The Levy Family and Monticello, 1834-1923: Saving Thomas Jefferson's House by Melvin I. Urofsky; Free Some Day: The African-American Families of Monticello by Lucia Stanton; Jefferson's West: A Journey with Lewis and Clark by James P. Ronda; and Thomas Jefferson: Musician and Violinist by Sandor Salgo.

A new look at Monticello is set for publication in May.

A new title, Thomas Jefferson's Monticello, a 240-page book with more than 225 color photographs and essays by four senior members of the Monticello staff, is scheduled for publication in May.

These and 10 other Foundation publications are featured in UNC Press' current catalog, and will be included in future publicity, promotional, and marketing initiatives.

UNC Press, established in 1922, is the oldest university press in the South and one of the most highly
